

Press release No. 02/2013

CeBIT 2013: We are Viprinet.

Bingen, Germany, 2/28/2013. – In 2013, too, CeBIT won't take place without a small invincible company from Bingen, Germany: We from Viprinet will be there of course – and bring along many fantastic products and application scenarios. Other than that, it might be an adventure just to have a closer look at our new and ingenious booth.

At our booth, booth number D27 in hall 13, we'll show everything we were able to purloin from our development department. Among the devices we relocated is the succeeding generation of our hubs, models 1020 and 2020. Also, our new antenna signal combiner and amplifier, the MultiAMP Combiner, can be marveled at. This device is able to compensate for distances of up to 25m between router and antenna without any signal loss. By that, the Combiner increases signal strength in buildings as well as in vehicles significantly.

We won't be alone at our booth: Our Danish partner Viewcare will present their telemonitoring solution which enables treating patients with chronic diseases at home as reliably as in a hospital. Furthermore, LifeSize will demonstrate their video conferencing solution at our booth.

Our booth staff will be happy to offer advice on all our new products, antenna solutions, as well as the new software extensions Node Stacking and Traffic Accounting.

In addition, we'll again have an outdoor area this year, and we've quite packed it with vehicles. For instance, the company Publicexpress will show a long-distance coach which has been equipped with a Multichannel VPN Router 1610 and now provides passengers with the possibility to surf the Internet while driving. The company tividoo presents their mobile subcompact hot-spot which has been converted to a cost-effective alternative to SNGs by using a Multichannel VPN Router 500. And last but not least, we've transformed a real ambulance into an Internet Rescue Service vehicle by means of several Viprinet routers.

Come to CeBIT 2013 and get to know us, our products, and their applications. All live... and kicking ass.
